INTRODUCTION

Since the beginning of the 19th Century, astronomers have been aware of the existence of asteroids, but astrologers have only been using them as part of the horoscope since 1973. In this report you will find interpretations for twelve major dwarf planets and asteroids, and their impact in the natal chart. They add balance, detail and depth of meaning to astrological interpretation.

Most of the dwarf planets and asteroids found in the Iris Report are named for classical goddesses rather than gods, and this is partly in order to balance the excess of masculine energy that a purely planetary astrology reveals.

The dwarf planet and asteroids selected for this report are Ceres, Pallas, Juno, Vesta, Astraea, Iris, Hygiea, Diana and Apollo (additional lunar and solar symbols that show the primal life energies working in a larger social context); Proserpina; and symbols of the two great gods not represented by planets in the solar system: Bacchus and Hephaistos. These all together complete a kind of balanced listing of archetypal energies which astrologers can use to make sense of a horoscope.

Chapter 1: Ceres

Ceres, lady of loving-kindness

Ceres symbolizes the fertility and abundance of the corn goddess, an aspect of the great Earth Mother. Ceres was the Roman deity; Demeter the earlier Greek goddess of grain and fertility in the classical tradition. With the new astronomical definitions of the various bodies in the solar system, Ceres the former asteroid is now considered to be a 'dwarf planet'. In astrology, the divine archetype Ceres bestows the blessing of loving-kindness. She distils her energy gently in the horoscope, and does not make a fuss.

Ceres helps you to see the world through kindly eyes, and to enjoy what is natural and simple and good. With her help, you grow in compassion for others, and gain in empathic understanding. She promotes generosity of spirit, and helps you to help other living beings: people, animals, and the natural world. Her position shows something about how you find ways to look after other people, and seek to bring out the best in them. Ceres nurtures and educates, in the best sense of those words. And on a larger worldly scale, she promotes the good of ordinary people, helps humankind to build democracy, and fosters respect and care for the environment as a whole. Her darker side tends to smother love and games involving manipulation or rejection. However, her more noble urge prompts everyone towards leading a good life, which facilitates the correction or elimination of such unattractive qualities.

Ceres in Taurus:

There is something of the 'good mother' in you, regardless of gender or parental status. You radiate a dependable and protective quality, something solid and stable, that less assured people are going to depend on just as much as you let them! You may get leant on more than is good for you at times, and so encounter lessons in boundary setting. The natural world is a tonic for you. Essentially you are peaceable, but can be aroused to strong anger if you see the weak being hurt in some way. You have a drive for material security, especially if you are providing for children, because you want the best for them even more than you do for yourself. Beware of over-identifying with possessions: it is your integrity and inner strength that sustain you, not attachments to things.

Ceres in 10th house:

Ceres in the house of vocation can lead you into a range of careers with an educational focus, because one way or another you were born to nurture or teach or mentor other people. The possible ways to do this are limited only by your imagination. You have a certain executive ability, or at least organizational skills, but modesty may prevent you from recognizing and realizing your full potential until later in life. Your way of leading is often from behind rather than in front, but you still have the capacity to lead very effectively, usually by bringing calm and common sense into situations. Your mother was a strong influence for good or ill, and you'll tend either to replicate or reject her style.

Ceres Conjunct Apollo, Orb: 0 deg. 38 min.

Your creative fire is kindled and sustained by your ability to nurture others in a range of ways. Becoming a parent will be a defining moment for you and guide your life, but you can be a parent without physical children - whatever you create becomes a means to self expression and actualization. Just let your children go when they've grown up!

Ceres Conjunct Hephaistos, Orb: 3 deg. 45 min.

There is a passionate intensity about your way of engaging with people and situations, which will give great reassurance to some people and alarm others. Be clear about your good intentions, don't play games, and show the independent you will respect their space whilst affirming to others that you are, and will remain, fully present and interested.

Ceres Sextile True Lilith, Orb: 2 deg. 21 min.

You have a knack for reconciling opposites and understand the paradoxes of how secure it is to live freely, and how free it is to live securely. Finding a way through the dark nights of the soul is a gift of self-empowerment you can offer to others in turn. You learn how to neutralize your own attachments, and can help other people to lose theirs.

*****

Chapter 2: Pallas

Pallas, lady of consciousness-raising

Pallas was a title of the great Greek goddess Athena, warrior, strategist and wisdom seeker. Her Roman counterpart was Minerva. The asteroid (perhaps eventually to be classified as dwarf planet) Pallas brings gifts of understanding, insight and skillfulness, and helps you to take things to a higher level than you might have thought possible. The energies of Pallas often seem to appear suddenly in the horoscope, and she can present in a surprising, even shocking, way. These upheavals are necessary sometimes in order to shake you out of your complacency and get you moving.

Pallas helps you to see much more clearly, and although this can involve pain, it is for the best in the long run. Illusions are stripped away and you comprehend at a deep level the lessons brought by this asteroid. You grow in intellectual dexterity and sometimes manual dexterity as well, and learn how to approach issues more strategically. Just as Pallas improves the linkages in your brain, so she also helps you to create better linkages in the world at large. Pallas can prompt you to respond very coldly, too, so you need to be careful of her chilly intellectualism and its snare of retreat into airy, abstract absolutes. But Pallas also promotes equality and cooperation, and helps you to help others in clear-sighted and astute ways. She assists you to act more fairly towards people, and to fight for fairness in turn. Pallas is a true raiser of the level of consciousness, and ultimately she helps you to think and act in much better, more skilful ways than you might ever have imagined possible.

Pallas in Aries:

You have an ardor to understand how the world works, or at least those parts of it that engage your interest. Your curiosity can be aroused quickly, but it can also move quickly to a new focus, so you need to be careful to complete whatever you've started. There is a pioneering quality to your nature which begins with your intellectual openness to new ideas and possibilities. Inventions and gadgets can appeal to you, and you are often ahead of the pack with trends. You can get a bit too full-on with your enthusiasms, though, and need to watch out that your attempts to engage other people aren't interpreted as bullying. You are a zealous champion, especially of ideas, but need to invoke the Pallas gift of strategy in order to stay focused, and to keep mindful of the sensitivities of others.

Pallas in 9th house:

Pallas is right at home in the house of the 'higher mind', as this brings out many of her best, most natural qualities. Your life will be driven by a high level of aspiration and idealism. Learning, however you define it, is a lifelong love and preoccupation. Indeed, you can become a perpetual student, or traveler, constantly questing for more and more. Narrow mindedness, intolerance and stupidity all bewilder you as you find it hard to understand how other people could possibly be like that. Well, they can be, but instead of judging, try showing them how your own spacious thought processes work, and help them to broaden their perspectives to something closer to your own.

Pallas Trine Venus, Orb: 2 deg. 18 min.

Your idea of fun is, well, yours. You need to find other people on the same wavelength to share it, but that's pretty easy with a harmonious link between Venus and Pallas. You are able to draw strength from your different take on what beauty and love are, and have the creative charisma to communicate this to a wider audience as well.

Pallas Trine True Node, Orb: 0 deg. 26 min.

Your connections are enlivened by a vivid capacity to bounce ideas around and to work for change. You and those around you don't stand still, but rather take on the challenges of life with confidence and the imagination to create the future. You have little patience with stick-in-the-mud types, however, and must remember to be fair to all comers.

Pallas Trine Asc., Orb: 1 deg. 34 min.

Your ability to project the Pallas qualities of clear thinking and innovation into your personal style is a source of personal strength and worldly success. Your unique qualities are readily accepted, and you can be a very effective agent of change. You tend to draw unusual, gifted people to you who can help you cultivate your own special style.

*****

Chapter 3: Juno

Juno, lady of personal power

Juno symbolizes the primal power of the original Great Mother Goddess, whom the Greeks called Hera. The goddess Hera's supreme position was lost when the sky and warrior gods of patriarchal tribes supplanted the deities of the old agricultural proto-civilization. Hera became the wife of Zeus and patroness of marriage, a much narrower remit of power. Her Roman counterpart was Juno, wife of Jupiter. Although most astrologers read the asteroid Juno primarily as a symbol of relationships and the passions and power struggles entangled in them, there is a much deeper significance to this asteroid in your chart.

Juno is above all about personal power, where you find it, and how you use or misuse it, or fail to use it at all. People often struggle to express their Juno energy, perhaps because the world still struggles collectively with what feminine energy really means. It is not simply about sugar and spice and all things nice. Juno is often not very 'nice' at all, and challenges you to wake up to what you want and find a skilful way of shaping your life path. Juno shines a light on inequalities and demands fairness, or - if she feels thwarted - retreats into angry sulking and defeat. Her most blunted and distorted energies manifest as arrogance and self-entitlement, or in envy and spite; but at her best she bestows a kind of truly royal authority, grounded in maturity and deep understanding.

Juno demands you take responsibility, first of all for yourself. She also teaches you lessons about your values and helps you to transform anything primitive, selfish or self-defeating into a mature and empowering way of being in the world. Juno's great gift is precisely this: empowerment. As a corollary, she can help you make money or gain material successes along the way. And she can give you great style and a powerful presence, too!

Juno in Gemini:

For you, personal power is to be found most importantly in the workings of your mind and your ability to communicate your ideas. To the extent you are able to find what you want to say, and find vivid ways to say it, you will feel fulfilled in the world. A sense of being stifled will emerge if your voice is somehow not heard. There are so many ways to communicate in the modern world, in this information age: check your Juno house position and aspects to see where the added power boosters lie. But regardless of other factors, you are a lifelong student of life itself, and can evolve into a teacher of others as you grow in knowledge and understanding. Beware of a tendency to righteous anger over unequal exchanges or to superficiality in relationships: you can tend to roam!

Juno in 11th house:

The path to personal power is not simply through doing something on your own, or for yourself, but in concert with others. Ideally what you are doing will be for others as well. The limits of ego and its demands are tested with Juno in the area of the chart that asks you to look beyond your immediate environment and think big. The more you open your heart and the larger the stage you seek to play on, the better life gets. In the process you will forge much stronger friendship bonds, and these can also become a source of empowerment. This is not about using people, or being used, but about developing true mutuality and the ability to work in a dynamic team spirit for a large idealistic goal.

Juno Conjunct Sun, Orb: 4 deg. 12 min.

In your heart you have a strong drive to be a person of power and significance in the world, or at least your patch of it. You have immense capacity as long as you harness the horses of your drives to a practical wagon built to take you somewhere. Empty vanity leads to the castle of nothing and nowhere. 'Keep it real', and nothing can stop you.

Juno Conjunct Mercury, Orb: 4 deg. 42 min.

You get a sense of power and security from being able to think about and analyze things clearly. Be careful of a tendency to think your ideas are the best or only ones, because information exchanges flourish best in freedom. You don't want mental constraints yourself, so make room for the ways of others, even if they seem, or are, quite wrong!

Juno Sextile Jupiter, Orb: 0 deg. 12 min.

There is an expansive quality in your makeup, a desire for the biggest and best in everything. This can lead you to considerable professional and personal success, as long as you keep pride reined in - no one likes a show-off or know-all. You have a knack for finding the silver lining in the cloud and can attract occasional strokes of sheer luck.

Juno Sextile MC, Orb: 0 deg. 15 min.

Although you are very ambitious, you are likely to disguise your drive for success behind a charming manner or, more dangerously, just hope for things to fall into your lap without trying. The charm will be fine because other people will like and help you, but complacency spoils your harvest - so get busy and work, and see how magic it is!

Juno Trine Astraea, Orb: 2 deg. 15 min.

You draw strength and personal power from an almost sublime kind of efficiency. A mastery of detail and the ability to see how things fit together provide you with terrific practical skills you can direct into many areas of life and work. You also have a strong will-to-power, which you can channel very effectively when you have a worthy goal.

Juno Trine Bacchus, Orb: 1 deg. 02 min.

Following your bliss means unleashing personal power in some area of your life, and you are able to find great strength and worldly achievement in your ability to let your imagination have full play and open up to 'divine' inspiration. Just don't confuse that gift of grace with any personal fantasies - you can do better than phony baloney!

*****

Chapter 4: Vesta

Vesta, lady of focused service.

The asteroid Vesta constellates a very pure energy of dedication to a higher purpose. In worldly terms this often steps down to more ordinary, everyday realities: the willingness to work hard, the willingness to put personal preferences aside to deal with issues at hand or to assist others in need, and above all the ability to focus intently on something in order to get it done.

It is worth remembering that the Roman goddess Vesta was lady of the hearth, and the Latin word for hearth is 'focus'. Where you put your focus you are, in some sense, kindling a fire in a hearth and tending it, just like the Vestal Virgins looked after the sacred hearth whose fire symbolized the life of the whole collective. Vesta helps you to maintain your focus for as long as it takes to fulfill your obligations or to get the work done. With her help, you become less egoistic and more willing to put others ahead of yourself. But she also teaches you how to do this appropriately - turning into a doormat is hardly going to work well in the long run, either. You can become rather obsessed, too, where Vesta goes, and become righteous about issues with a moral dimension. You need to go a bit easily and honor difference whilst maintaining your own standards. Leading by example is better than grandstanding, and Vesta teaches you to work away quietly, without fuss, and achieve the sense of deep satisfaction that comes from recognizing and doing the right thing. You don't have to advertise this - virtue is its own reward!

Vesta in Pisces:

Vesta can get a little lost, initially, in the labyrinths and complex waterways of Pisces. But once you find a thread, or your bearings, you can cultivate a rare depth of subtlety and insight into anything you do. You probably don't work in the most conventional way, and some people may find your methods incomprehensible. That's their problem, not yours. You know what you are doing, sort of. If the truth be told, you don't always quite know what you are doing, or how, but you have a way of getting there (wherever 'there' is) in the end. Intuition, the capacity to attract help, even blind luck can be on your side. At your best you can magic order from chaos; at your worst you make chaos out of order. This is a paradoxical energy: whether magician or muddler, you are your own person.

Vesta in 9th house:

In olden days, astrologers called the ninth house the domicile of God. With Vesta here you may not dedicate yourself to a deity in the conventional sense, renouncing the world and taking holy orders, but you will certainly dedicate yourself to some kind of higher purpose, sooner or later. In your youth you may resist a bit, and play freedom games, travel a lot, or travel for work. But finally your works will take on a rather exalted quality, or aspiration at least, and the search for meaning becomes a quietly burning passion. Whether you concentrate your energies on material or spiritual quests, there is much to be gained from the journey. You might be surprised by the destination!

Vesta Square Mercury, Orb: 0 deg. 41 min.

Your mental energies are incredibly focused and you have a real talent for managing detail and undertaking research. But you can become too intensely serious for your own good. This makes you a tough customer to deal with, maybe because your standards are too high, or your ideas are out of sync, or because you shut down, fearing exploitation.

Vesta SemiSquare Hephaistos, Orb: 1 deg. 38 min.

You are a quietly intense person with tremendous dedication to anything or anyone that matters to you, but may need to beware of overdoing the service thing. Although you feel deeply, you also tend to repress your emotions, out of fear or guilt, and can take life much too seriously. Watch out for workaholic tendencies! And don't hide from life in work!

*****

Chapter 5: Astraea

Astraea, lady of right judgment and integration

Astraea was a classical goddess of justice, whose symbol was the balanced scales. She presided over the moral sense of rightness and good order, and the poetic tradition relates that she was the last of the divinities to leave the world at the end of the Golden Age. Astraea was then translated into the heavens as the constellation Virgo. These elements of myth give you clues to the meaning of the asteroid Astraea in the horoscope. She is concerned with the integration and organization of things, bringing sometimes disparate elements together and finding the common links that join them up in the web of life. She helps you to focus on detail and understand the meaning of the fine print. She helps you to work both hard and well, and helps you to become more ordered and tidy in at least some aspects of your life.

Astraea can also help you to become quite high minded, whilst integrating into this spacious vision an ability to zero in and see all the small things that go together to make up the greater whole. She can stir up a compulsive quality, too, and stimulate an obsessive streak. This can cause a kind of splitting, which is another aspect of Astraea energy: the goddess who brings things together can also tear them apart. She does all this, ultimately, in the service of wholeness, and reveals those things it is time to clean up and get rid of, so that everything else can evolve into a more perfect form. Wherever Astraea goes, you are urged to get organized and get your act together - and become the best you can be!

Astraea in Libra:

There's an artistic streak to your personality, which doesn't mean you have to get busy with a paintbrush or musical instrument (though you might), but which does give you a sense of beauty and a desire for pleasure and harmony. Astraea is very good at concentrating energy, and your focus of attention tends to be on the social linkages and harmonies between people, or the lack thereof. If you sense that something is amiss or discordant, you will generally seek to do something about it. Quite apart from the moral problem of conflict, you don't like its untidiness. So you can be a very effective mediator and negotiator. But if you flip to the other side of this coin - and some Astraea-Libra people do - you can become a fearsome warrior, and a force to be reckoned with!

Astraea in 4th house:

Was your family home an organized and tidy house with a place for everyone and everything, or did chaos reign? Depending on what you thought of the good old days, you'll either replicate or repudiate them. You can turn your own home into the proverbial tightly run ship, or it could look like a bomb-struck flophouse. But all this is just the physical dressing: what is going on inside? Inside you? That's where the real organizing and integrating need to be done. You could be so afraid of fragmenting that you over control everything, or you could learn to relax and allow things to be. There is a place for everything in your soul, including the messy bits. Don't be too hard on yourself!

Astraea Trine Mercury, Orb: 2 deg. 27 min.

You draw strength and success from your wonderful ability to concentrate the powers of your conscious mind, and can achieve much from your ability to work with detail and undertake research. There is a strong perfectionist streak in you which can make you critical, but you usually know how to balance fine judgment with tact.

Astraea Trine Bacchus, Orb: 1 deg. 14 min.

When practicality and divine madness meet, you'll either be divinely inspired or run a mile from any of that spooky stuff. Given the harmonies in this meeting, you will find that happiness comes from getting the details right and making the right connections. Your intuition is a pretty good guide: so just do it, rather than merely dreaming it!

Astraea Opposition Jupiter, Orb: 2 deg. 27 min.

Your ability to mix the small with the large, the little details with the big picture, can turn you into a mighty achiever in the wide world of work or business. Just watch out for any tendencies to overestimate yourself, or to become too dogmatic. Ever thought you may not have the only way? Be generous about others' efforts, and you'll go even further!

Astraea Square Saturn, Orb: 2 deg. 29 min.

Sure, you can turn perfectionism to an art form, and have a colossal capacity for hard work and focused action. But it's easy for you to overdo this busy-ness and also to develop a martyr streak, even though the world won't end without you. Let others take some of the load, without watching them like a hawk. Live and let live!

Astraea Opposition MC, Orb: 2 deg. 00 min.

You want to achieve integration and wholeness in your life, especially on your career path. Service with a capital 'S' is the name of the game: but it must not be servility, or manipulation. Honor yourself and your gifts, so others honor you in turn. Don't allow shyness to hold you back: be realistic, and that may mean taking pride in your skills!

Astraea Sesquiquadrate Hygiea, Orb: 1 deg. 01 min.

There is a powerful healing energy at work here, at quite a subtle level. But it is all too easy for you to get caught up in phantom fears and start 'sweating the small stuff'. Get the support you need to gain confidence in the fundamental goodness of life. You have the capacity to grow into an agent of healing and transformation.

Astraea Sesquiquadrate Diana, Orb: 0 deg. 05 min.

You go your own way, and are pretty indifferent if others don't like it. The connecting game is one you can take or leave, and you generally make linkages on your own terms, and only if there's wriggle room. Some people could find you cold, or hard to understand, but you are a great practical friend to have - as long as you want to help!

*****

Chapter 6: Iris

Iris, lady of the intuitive mind and illumination

In Greek myth, there were two divine messengers: Hermes (equivalent to the Roman god Mercury), and Iris. Some traditions suggest that Iris was the messenger of the goddess Hera (whose Roman equivalent was Juno), whilst Mercury served Jupiter. However you play with the myths, there was a feminine energy associated with communication as well as a masculine one. And modern neuroscience tells us there are masculine and feminine aspects to the brain, too.

Few astrologers have learned yet how to honor the great goddess whose archetype stands behind the 'feminine' brain and style of communication. That is why this asteroid report is named in honor of Iris! The symbol of Iris was the rainbow, and the Iris energies of the horoscope seem to encompass all the colors of the spectrum, all kinds of light: ultimately, the light of pure consciousness.

Mercury shows how you think and communicate in a more systems oriented, data gathering and sorting way. His energy is yang and outward directed. Iris, however, has yin energy and is receptive. She shows how you receive ideas, how you listen, how you intuit and empathize, and how you deal holistically with all the information thrown at you by living in the world.

Iris helps you to understand things at a deep level, and to grow in wisdom. She adds color and depth to the Mercury energies of the chart, and shows another avenue of expression. She helps you to meditate. At her very best, Iris helps you to find true illumination. There is a vastness and sublime beauty to Iris energy. Wherever she sits in your horoscope can be magical, as she helps your consciousness to expand and evolve.

Iris in Libra:

Fair play and balance are concepts that keep recurring in your consciousness. There is something very spacious and accommodating about your mind, and you find it pretty easy to listen to people and really hear them, a gift that can win you lots of friends and gain you lots of influence. The usual Libra caveat applies here, though: don't dither too much, even though you want to give due thought and weight to every idea and point of view. And you can't please all the people all the time, either, so sooner or later you need to come to a few decisions! But you do have charm, a true blessing, and a gift of insight into people and their pain. You can be a good counselor, because whilst you are attentive and sensible, you're also able to disentangle yourself from any excess emotionalism.

Iris in 4th house:

Although it can get a bit lost under layers of disguise, your deepest drive is to find the inner light. This may start with trying to make home a place of calm and reflection, especially if that is how it was in childhood, and even more so if you feel you have to make up later for early deprivation. You almost certainly understand your family very well, possibly better than they understand you. The parental bond can be particularly strong, and one or both of your parents has probably had a powerful influence on the development of your mind and your approach to learning and communication. But above all, you want inner growth, and live out the Confucian edict, 'Cultivate your person.'

Iris Conjunction Uranus, Orb: 3 deg. 24 min.

You understand perfectly the old war cry, 'Give me liberty or give me death!' Well, you want liberty, anyway, and do your own thing. There's something very unusual about how you think and communicate, and you may be a bit too far ahead of your time for some folk. But you're off and away following yonder star - the rest will catch up one day.

Iris Trine Mercury, Orb: 3 deg. 04 min.

You have a very easy blending of active and receptive intellectual abilities, and this enables your mind to work in a particularly integrated and effective way. Such mental facility can stimulate tremendous worldly achievement, once you've decided on your direction, and you have a knack for influencing the right people to help you along, too!

Iris Trine Proserpina, Orb: 0 deg. 02 min.

There is an emotional suppleness available to you, which helps you to face dark challenges and negotiate your way out of tight corners. You understand about wisdom born of pain, and don't take fright at the bigger challenges of life. Because you learn quickly where things are at, you are able to stay centered and go with the flow.

Iris Square Venus, Orb: 2 deg. 45 min.

A challenging link between Iris and Venus can stimulate you to great achievements, spurring as it does the desire to live a good life to the maximum, in all respects. Over attachment, or attachment to the wrong things, are the most likely ways for this energy to distort, so clarify your values and strive for harmony - which may mean, simplify!

Iris Opposition Chiron, Orb: 1 deg. 22 min.

There's a maverick streak in your nature that often gives the impression you are going off on a tangent, come what may. But you are also very aware of the pains and struggles of life, and can be good at dealing with people in distress, or troubled situations. Just don't get hung up on their stuff, prompting either over involvement or running away.

Iris Square Asc., Orb: 3 deg. 30 min.

You have a strong drive to project the Iris qualities of receptivity and awareness into your personal style, but sometimes this can be too full-on for full effectiveness. Use your ability to detach and watch to make careful assessments before you leap in. With a little tact and planning you can make fantastic connections, and contribute socially.

Iris SemiSquare Neptune, Orb: 0 deg. 04 min.

Oh sweet mystery of life - and just when you think you've found it, it slips away, again, dang it. But you never give up the sublime quest, and if you can anchor your mystical tendencies in realities, whilst maintaining your focus on the heavenly heights, you can have amazing experiences. Develop discernment and boundaries - then you can soar!

Iris Sesquiquadrate True Lilith, Orb: 0 deg. 44 min.

The desire for autonomy and a reluctance to get caught up in weird emotional situations can make you seem a bit distant to some people. Actually you are very sensitive, and acutely aware of what's going on. Avoidance can be positive or negative depending on what you are keeping away from, and why. Be aware and clear at all times.

*****

Chapter 7: Hygiea

Hygiea, lady of purification and healing

Hygiea is named for the classical goddess of health and well-being, whose name also yields the English word hygiene. This brings a sense of cleansing and purification to the symbolism for the asteroid Hygiea, as well as meanings associated with health issues, sickness, cure, and the moral and physical wholeness that are implicit in ideas of good health or good order. Wherever Hygiea goes in the horoscope, she has a way of cleaning up things, bringing them into a very pure, even ideal, state of being.

Hygiea intensifies any other planetary energy with which she links, and assists it to express in a cleaner, stronger, truer form. Sometimes this poses real challenges and problems, making circumstances appear worse before they get better. Then Hygiea seems to act like the force behind a fever, which can rise to dangerous heights before it breaks, and the healing occurs. It's all about getting the poison out first, so that wholeness can be restored, or aided to form. The poison is more often metaphorical than literal, of course. Hygiea always helps you to scrub up, or purge. She's a catalyst for action as well as a force for intensifying and purifying other energies. However testing a time you have whilst she's busy, you're always left in much better shape when she has finished with you!

Hygiea in Gemini:

You have a very strong mind, and tend to operate on the assumption that any problem can be healed by the right application of brain power. Certainly communicating the right idea in the right way at the right time can work wonders, but be sure you make the right judgment call about what is truly right for the occasion. Stepping back and making sure others are on your wavelength can make a big difference. When you focus on a problem your mind is like a scouring brush, and you are great at cleaning up ideas and arguments. Just go gently - sometimes you get a little obsessed, don't you? But at your best you are a wonderful catalyst for ideas. Watch out for nervous overstrain and even sometimes for lung sensitivities, as you don't like bad air, literally or metaphorically.

Hygiea in 11th house:

Your connection to 'the group' is very strong, whether it's the neighborhood gang while growing up, your peers (anywhere anytime), or the larger social milieu you enter as an adult, and which has a tendency to change and evolve along with your own change and evolution. You probably feel that healing and wholeness isn't altogether possible on your own, that it needs some kind of group input or recognition and validation. But don't lose yourself through over-identification with other people and bigger agendas, any more than you should swing the other way and project your own agenda onto the group as a whole. As always with Hygiea, seek balance and here, healthy circulation, both metaphorically and literally. You need to limber up on a regular basis.

Hygiea Trine Pluto, Orb: 0 deg. 37 min.

It is easy for you to engage in that feng shui clutter-busting thing: you were born to clean things up on a regular basis, and draw strength from engaging in processes of elimination and renewal. This can daunt less certain folk, or nature's hoarders. Make allowances for difference, and help the timid to put their houses in order in the nicest possible way.

Hygiea Opposition Neptune, Orb: 4 deg. 26 min.

Your sensitivity is acute, and at your best you understand anything and anyone; but at your worst, you wallow in confusion and fantasy. You need to cultivate the power discernment so you can reach the heavenly heights instead of sinking into the depths. Avoid illicit substances; you can become addicted more easily than many other folk.

Hygiea Square True Lilith, Orb: 3 deg. 46 min.

Sometimes light has to be shone in dark corners, and there's probably some unresolved anger or hurt lurking behind your mask of fierce independence. Nursing dark feelings won't serve you in the long run. It's better to deal squarely with the issues and even allow any necessary healing crises to move things along. Don't stonewall and seethe.

Hygiea Square Diana, Orb: 1 deg. 06 min.

There's independence, and then here's what therapists call 'avoidance'. Sure, some of the human race sucks, but you can't remove yourself completely from everyone and everything, unless you really do want to be a hermit. Rather than giving into fear, use your warrior streak to overcome doubt and deal with people with true confidence.

Chapter 8: Proserpina

Proserpina, lady of transitions, other-worldly realms, and sacrifice

The asteroid Proserpina is named in honor of the goddess of the dead, consort of Pluto, she who was known as Persephone to the Greeks. As a goddess archetype, Proserpina constellates an energy that is often hard to fathom at first, because in the poetic myths Proserpina/Persephone seems to have little personality of her own. As the innocent maiden, abducted by Pluto/Hades into the underworld, she was scarcely distinguishable from her fertility goddess mother Ceres/Demeter. As Pluto's wife and queen of the underworld, though, she receives the souls of the dead and as such, is also a guide to other realms and levels of being, and the deepest places of the psyche. The asteroid Proserpina seems to manifest as an energy of innocence and ignorance that learns a very great deal by (often hard) experience. She shows where you tend to take the line of least resistance, to be passive or helpless, and teaches you the consequences of such unaware or unassertive responses. She points to what you learn through the various transitions of life, which may or may not be painful, but which always entail a letting go of what has ceased to be viable, and carry therefore some sense of sacrifice. She shows you altered states of being, can help you to open up to all the stimuli of life, assists you to adapt and change in response to your environment, and even helps you to cultivate psychic perception.

Proserpina is a tricky energy to deal with, though, because she is so hard to know in essence. You need to be still, and quietly open, to access Proserpina and work with her successfully. Ignore her altogether and you may find yourself plunging into situations you never expected or wanted; honor her and she will help you to find a way through the dark, a guide for your soul who aids your inner journey and ultimately, as a result, your path to individuation in the outer world.

Proserpina in Aquarius:

Either you just fit in with the group like a happy little lamb content to be part of the herd, or you feel like a black sheep that has lost its way and doesn't belong with the flock in any case. Giving in to either of these extreme responses is probably not smart: simply blend in and you'll lose your individuality, but opt out and you could end up so out of step, you can never fall in again. Play to your strengths and use your sometimes oddball talents to help the group - then you can end up leading it. That's more your style. You probably have a strong social conscience and could become a passionate advocate for justice or change, or for protecting the weak from exploitation: you don't like power abuses. You're a smart cookie, too, as long as you don't drift and procrastinate.

Proserpina in 8th house:

For you, Proserpina's symbolic journey to hell and back takes place in the transformative space in the horoscope where everything is shared, especially in close relationships. This does not mean you are doomed! Indeed, you have the potential to rise from this purified and glorified like the phoenix, but such splendid new wings are not won easily. By facing your own demons without flinching, you learn to see the demons in others as the bogus phantoms they really are. Then, pfft! - they're gone. You do have to learn some discernment in picking partners, though, and may have to be careful whom you trust. But you could be a natural therapist, and help other people with their transformations, too.

Proserpina Trine Mercury, Orb: 3 deg. 03 min.

There's a mine of talent for you in your subtle mind, especially if you can harness your vivid imagination in a practical way. The main risk here is letting things ride: when you can do things so easily, there is a temptation to cruise rather than put the effort in. The rewards will be much greater if you focus rather than drift, and stay level headed, too!

Proserpina Trine Uranus, Orb: 3 deg. 25 min.

It's very easy for you to do your own thing, and many of your successes and happinesses in life come from exercising independence of spirit. You can do really well by pushing the boundaries a bit, and for the most part overcome any Oppo to your quirkiness. In you, people find eccentricity endearing rather than threatening.

Proserpina Sextile Chiron, Orb: 1 deg. 24 min.

You've a talent for identifying what pain is about, whether it's your own or the burden of others. You may not always be able to fix it but you can certainly offer some useful ways of going around or through it. Just don't be waylaid by the inner saboteur, whether it's provoking fear or self satisfaction. Practical wisdom, grounded in reality, is how to go.

Proserpina SemiSquare Mars, Orb: 0 deg. 20 min.

Your energy levels can go up and down, and see you oscillate between intense interest and sublime indifference. Cultivating balance is a good start if you want to succeed in the world (and you do!), and don't kid yourself that it will all be easy. There's no such thing as a free lunch. Get organized and don't allow impulse to side track your journey.

Chapter 9: Diana

Diana, lady of emotional maturity

Diana was the classical goddess associated with the moon, a virginal hunter who was expert with the bow and arrow. She preferred to keep aloof from the company of most of the other gods and goddesses, living in wild mountain fastnesses with her retinue of maidens.

Diana took an interest in the affairs of ordinary mortals primarily when women were giving birth, and she cared for the young of all creatures. But she could be fierce, even lethal, if her rights were impinged upon, or if she were slighted. Her arrows never missed their target.

The asteroid Diana has not been used a lot by astrologers, which is a pity as she seems to show a different quality of emotional response from that traditionally associated with the Moon. Where Diana goes in your chart you are not inclined to the sort of overt, even child-like sensitivity and vulnerability that the Moon tends to indicate, but to a more restrained, independent and even sometimes avoidant response to the stimuli of life. Diana energy is more austere, but she does not show a lack of sensitivity as such. Indeed, she can be almost hypersensitive in her way, which is to acknowledge feelings and immediately put boundaries in place to contain and protect them, so that Diana can sometimes seem cold or hard where in fact she is simply looking after herself. Of course, she can help you to be tough if circumstances demand it! She can also point to intense fear responses, which in turn stimulate the 'fight or flight' reflex, which in turn makes you either combative or prone to head for the hills. Ultimately the position of Diana in your chart tells you a lot about how you develop emotional maturity, although she can also say something about the distortions and setbacks of this process, too. She shows where you are able to rely on yourself rather than depending on others, and also points to ways in which you will help other people - as long as it suits you!

Diana is not needy, except for space and for the opportunity, quietly, to nurture the inner needs of the soul. She helps you to figure out what you want, but without all the emotional baggage associated with Lunar attachment. Detached, disinterested and dispassionate, Diana energy helps you to engage with life on your own terms, as a fully fledged adult. With Diana, you put away childish things and come into a richer fullness of being.

Diana in Pisces:

Diana always deepens energies and in Pisces she plumbs the depths of sensitivity, which means you may well over-compensate like mad in order to appear cool, calm and collected. One minute you are the most open of souls, but you'll clam up like (um) a clam if you sense that danger threatens. You have a strong sense of spiritual connection to all life, and can have a very universal vision. Life's subtleties appeal very much to you, so that you are a sort of connoisseur of experience, especially of suffering.

Your imagination is vivid, and it is easy for you to get more than a little carried away if you let down your intellectual guard. But if sense and sensitivity work together, you can be magnificently inspiring both to yourself and others, and can become a significant agent for change.

Diana in 8th house:

The whole interpersonal sphere is a playground for learning, and although it is a truism to say that relationships are our greatest teachers, this old saw is especially true of you. It's the business of sharing that can get tricky, and issues around vulnerability, or even a kind of dark charisma that can turn relationships into something quite odd and obsessive. You learn sooner or later the consequences of poor choices, which may mean you'll prefer to fly solo. But there is actually a potential for you to do it all better in a pair (or in a group, as the case may be), but this is likely to work out best when you're older and wiser. You need to deal effectively with power, a skill which comes with age and experience.

Diana Conjunct True Lilith, Orb: 4 deg. 53 min.

You can be very wild and sometimes wily, certainly quite remote and chilly - there's no taming you, so woe betide anyone who tries. Unless there's a lot of emotionalism elsewhere, you'll tend to keep out of too much social interaction. It is hard for you to trust because you know how awful people can be. But be open to genuine people!

Diana Square True Node, Orb: 3 deg. 54 min.

You tend to have very firm ideas about how far you want to go in the relating game, and often seem to attract power plays regardless of whether your instinct is to engage or withdraw. A wariness of people makes you happier alone, much of the time, but life has a way of challenging your independence, teaching you the best way to connect - or not!

Diana SemiSquare MC, Orb: 1 deg. 55 min.

Ambition is probably your second name, but it may not be too obvious, at least until you get to the top. There may be challenges on the way, though, as you have a way of getting caught up in power plays, and character building as these will be, they can also waste time and energy. Get smart about what matters and what doesn't, and focus well.

*****

Apollo, lord of creative maturity

In classical mythology, Apollo was the god of the sun, whose patronage extended over harmony, the arts and healing. He was not the literal, physical sun, however, and the asteroid named in honor of this god has a slightly different quality from the Sun energy with which traditional astrology is familiar - just as the energy of Diana is rather markedly different from that of the Moon.

Although work is still in progress on understanding the influence of Apollo - as with all the asteroids! - he seems to take the creative, personality-making energy traditionally associated with the Sun and then place and develop it in a wider social context. If the Sun is about 'Me' and my life force in pure potential, then Apollo shows 'Me' how to become more fully and completely and socially myself - or rather yourself, as the case may be, since this report is about you, the reader!

For this reason Apollo is described here as the lord of creative maturity. He has a sway over the process of full individuation that allows your innate gifts to shine their light into the world. Apollo shows another aspect of your talents and potentials, but he also shows possible areas of downfall, if more primitive egoistic urges get in the way of the maturation process.

It is all too easy to become proud wherever Apollo goes in the chart, and to become excessively perfectionist and demanding. But all these distortions are unfortunate ways of misusing his wonderful capacities for creation. At his best, Apollo gives clear sightedness, and this includes clarity of insight into who you really are and what you are best able to do in order to make the best of yourself in the world at large. Don't allow vanity or lazy self-entitlement to trip you up. Be honest about where you are and what you want, and do the best you can to be the best you can. That's what Apollo's drive for (true) excellence is all about!

The asteroid Apollo also has a rather strange orbit and appears to spend much longer in some signs of the zodiac than others. Appropriately enough, he is much more often and longest in Leo, the traditional sign of the Sun. If you have Apollo in the signs from Sagittarius through to Taurus, this is a relatively more rare placement.

Apollo in Taurus:

There's an earthy streak in your nature, a 'back to basics' quality. This means you like life to be simple, straightforward and clear. Pretension leaves you cold, although you also have a taste for all that's fine and pleasing: luxury is one thing (good), putting on airs another (bad). A born connoisseur and often an aesthete, you also have a strong security drive. Money may not buy all forms of happiness, but you figure it can give you adequate consolation when times get tough. You're a survivor, though, and your instinct for self-preservation is very handy now and then. Life has a way of confronting you, head-on, with the fundamental things that apply: power, money, and sex are all more than usually significant issues for you at various times, either individually or in some combination.

Apollo in 10th house:

Creativity and idealism fuel your career fire, which can make for a very splendid blaze if you are truly working with your talents, or can just turn into a glitzy fireworks show of ambition and trickery. It really comes down to your willingness to keep your integrity whilst you climb to the top. The bottom of the pile is not your idea (or ideal) of the place to be: as far as you're concerned, your sun was made to shine in the Big World. If you do the right work and genuinely give your best, then you'll succeed magnificently, and can have a powerful presence in your community. This is one of the astrological signatures for success, so don't blow it! Fly high with the eagles, don't swim with the sharks!

Apollo Conjunct Hephaistos, Orb: 4 deg. 24 min.

There is a remarkable capacity available to you to harness your creativity in very practical ways. Your passions are intense, which may trouble you, as a part of your being doesn't quite approve of intensity and brooding. For you, the only way to deal with the dark energies of the soul is to find a constructive, acceptable outlet for them.

Apollo Sextile True Lilith, Orb: 3 deg. 00 min.

You find it easier than many people to find creative resolutions to paradoxes, as you live with a free-flowing push-pull energy that enables you to express your creativity through sympathy for dark emotions, whilst taming some of your crazier urges. You bring light to dark places whilst also allowing a little darkness to make the light more interesting.

Chapter 11: Bacchus

Bacchus, lord of altered states and divine inspiration

In Roman mythology, Bacchus was the god of the vine and wine, equivalent to the Greek Dionysos. The cult of Dionysos was ancient and mysterious. He was a strange and subtle god, other-worldly, now kind, now cruel, connected with altered states (including those induced by drugs, from alcohol to hallucinogens), the deity presiding over peak experiences from ecstasy to agony. He was close to nature, wild and free, and his worship had many anarchic as well as transcendental elements. Eventually his archetype and worship became so important to the Greek collective psyche that he was elevated to the Council of Twelve, the great gods and goddesses who presided over the government of Mount Olympus. Unlike other (male) gods, Dionysos was surrounded by women, and mortal women were his most significant votaries. There is an inter-sex, almost androgynous or transgender quality to this divine archetype.

The asteroid Bacchus constellates all these contradictions and mysteries in the horoscope. A good deal of the Bacchus/Dionysos archetype is also apparent in the planet Neptune, and where this asteroid differs and adds value to the chart is in the way it focuses the area of life where you are most open to inspiration and where you are most eager for pleasure and escape from the everyday. Neptune has a collective energy, but Bacchus is more directly personal. Bacchus tells you a lot about where and how you play, what excites you and inspires you to do better, to go further, and to push things not only to the limit but even past it. The consequences, if any, you will deal with later, if you must. Where Bacchus goes you have a little taste of freedom, a little glimpse of heaven or - if you play foolishly or choose badly - you get a harrowing vision of hell. You need to be careful with Bacchus energy. When he is good he is very, very good; and when he is bad he is horrid. Or to quote another old proverb: 'Take what you want, the Good Lord says - and pay for it.'

The asteroid Bacchus has an eccentric orbit and spends more time in some signs of the zodiac than others. His longest sojourn is in Sagittarius; if you have Bacchus in the signs from Pisces through Aries to Virgo, this is a less common placement.

Bacchus in Aquarius:

Mystic mirror on the wall, who is the wisest of them all? The answer will be, 'You,' if you have any say in the matter. When you are at your most exalted you can scale the heights, even access the highest planes of consciousness; or at least, this can become your highest aspiration. The sublime, the unusual, the off-key: any and all of these can inspire you, and elicit your gifts of attention and understanding. Your embrace of the best is as wide as any true definition of what is best (it covers a lot of ground), and your mind is spacious enough for most ideas and ideals to find happy lodging. You can waste all this, of course, procrastinate, fantasize, bum around. Mystic and spiritual longings do have their perils, nearly all bearing the label marked 'ego'. Keep yours in check and fly!

Bacchus in 7th house:

Where Bacchus goes you want to experience inspiration and a sense of happiness, and have a bit of fun. Can any more perilous desire be brought to the realm of relating? Probably not, so you need to get smart, and real, if you want to be happy. If you fantasize too much and either notice or do too little, if you project qualities onto people that aren't there, if you make unrealistic demands or just become childishly self-indulgent and 'outta control', you're heading for big trouble. Your links to people could be made on the basis of the most exalted spiritual affinities, and if so - happy days! But they could also be wacko, so lose the rose-colored glasses and deal with what is actually in front of you!

Bacchus Trine Mercury, Orb: 3 deg. 41 min.

You take tremendous pleasure in the mind and its mysteries, and can achieve a great deal in the world when you learn to translate your visions into ordinary language and make an effort to participate in the everyday. It is tempting to remain up in the clouds, but you work out early on that it's more fun to bring imagination into daily life and talk.

Bacchus Sextile Jupiter, Orb: 1 deg. 13 min.

The easy energy exchange between Bacchus and Jupiter is one of the most joyful of all stimuli, and can make you seem as high as a kite a lot of the time. It is unlikely you are smoking anything (you don't need drugs) but you may need to share some of the bliss with others lest they become envious and questioning, and try to spoil your fun.

Bacchus Sextile MC, Orb: 0 deg. 46 min.

An everyday job isn't of much interest to you - you are seeking for an inspired vocation which enables you to fulfill all your potentials. Well, that could keep you busy, and see a number of changes of direction as you go through life, until you find the 'just right' fit. You won't waste time doing things you don't enjoy, and are willing to take a risk.

*****

Chapter 12: Hephaistos

Hephaistos, lord of inner fire, talent, craft and work

The asteroid Hephaistos is named in honor of the ancient god of fire and the forge, the master craftsman and divine blacksmith. In the proto-civilizations of the early Bronze Age, those who worked with the wonders of fire and metal seemed to be magicians, and were thought to possess special powers. But the god Hephaistos had a sad, strange story. He stands for aspects of the masculine that are not only amongst the most worthy (he is a hard worker and consummate artisan) but also the most unfortunate, because Hephaistos was crippled and ugly, so the other gods and goddesses wanted little to do with him. But they could not ignore him, because he was too clever and too skilful, and he was one of the great gods who sat on the Council of Twelve governors. As we know in human life, too, those who are truly gifted always find a way to the top, and this is something the asteroid Hephaistos can point to in your horoscope. He also shows where you may feel very unworthy and self-doubting, and so make an extra effort. He reveals many of your deepest passions and dearest desires, but also shows some of your greatest sufferings, because other people do not necessarily understand you or want your company or input. He shows where and how you work, where and how you are perhaps most skilful. But above all, the divine blacksmith hammers your soul on his forge in order to make you better than you are already. This process of soul making, of what used to be called 'character building', can be hard and painful, but it is very necessary.

Hephaistos knocks you into shape. Once you understand what he is doing, it can actually be fun to cooperate, and turn the work into a game. Mary Poppins, arguably the first super-nanny, knew a thing or two about the secret purposes of the Hephaistos archetype. With his help, you can take the base metal of your nature and transform it into gold, or at least move from childhood to adulthood.

The asteroid Hephaistos also has an even more eccentric orbit than Apollo, and spends very little time in some signs of the zodiac. He is most often in Taurus, and the nearby signs of Aries, Gemini and Cancer. If your Hephaistos is in the signs from Leo to Pisces, this is a much rarer placement.

Hephaistos in Taurus:

When Hephaistos is in Taurus you join hands, as it were, with by far the majority of the human race. Along with the masses, you are learning a large collective lesson around the use and management of the world's material resources. But soul making is a deeply personal effort, even when you are part of a bigger process, and perhaps the major lesson here is about how each individual yearning contributes to greater collective expressions of need and, alas, greed as well. Regardless of what else is going on in your chart, you have some obligation to understand and master your desire nature, and to develop a skilful approach to what you do with the basics: money, sex and power. If Hephaistos is strongly placed, your aesthetic sensitivity is also heightened, and a certain earthiness and physical vigor. You will be very talented in some way, and should develop your gift(s).

Hephaistos in 10th house:

The soul making process indicated by the sign your Hephaistos occupies is directed into your vocational path, which makes it a fairly serious business. You could be a proverbial late bloomer if lack of confidence has held you back, but once you learn to believe in yourself, you can reveal great talents to the world. You are serious about what you do, patient and careful. You aren't afraid of power, probably want it in your heart of hearts, and will challenge established authority if it doesn't live up to your expectations or - of course - if you want to wrest its power for yourself! You are a strong leader once you establish your own authority, either creatively, intellectually, physically or socially.

Hephaistos Sextile True Lilith, Orb: 1 deg. 24 min.

You can find both satisfaction and strength in your ability to work creatively with some pretty deep and dark sources of energy, which focus a sense of unworthiness or rejection. You are fiercely independent for starters, and easily ignore the noisy, know-nothing throng. Honing your craft in whatever way matters is your best way out, and up.

Hephaistos SemiSquare Mercury, Orb: 0 deg. 57 min.

You are a very practical thinker, perhaps too practical some of the time. Your vivid imagination may only gain your respect if you can harness its visions to doing a job of work, but a little creative wildness could be good for the soul as well! Don't brood and fret too much about things, either. Negativity only increases the possibility of failure!
